(Appleton, WI) American National Bank Fox Cities and The Trout Museum of Art are proud to present a new exhibition of paintings by two distinguished local artists:

DUET: THE ART OF GUSTAVO FARES & LENNY NAGLER

September 16 to November 12, 2010
Opening Reception, Thursday, September 16, 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.
At American National Bank Fox Cities
2200 N. Richmond St., Appleton
920-739-1040

GUSTAVO FARES: Abstract and representational paintings, drawings and monoprints “that reveal what is hidden to the verbal realm”.

LENNY NAGLER: Familiar and distinctive landscapes and portraits.
Respect for the Masters with an individual flare.

Gustavo Fares brings the cerebral realm into his images. An accomplished and celebrated scholar and artist, the Argentinian-born Fares is a professor of Language and Linguistics at Lawrence University. Fares' work is experiential. He plays with the tension between 3D and 2D, background and foreground. His paintings and monoprints challenge and confound. Viewers become engaged in his work, responding with their own experiences, creating new awareness of meanings and possibilities from the art.

Lenny Nagler's award winning artworks can be found in numerous collections and galleries throughout the Midwest. His experimentation with different techniques and media enabled his own distinctive impressionistic style. He paints both real and imagined places and people, creating images that resonate with many. A resident of both Appleton and Door County, Wisconsin, viewers of his oils find a soothing sense of "home" in his work.

Join us in celebrating the artistry of these two fine local artists at the exhibition opening, Thursday, September 16 from 5:30-7:30 at The Gallery at American National Bank Fox Cities. The Opening Reception with the artist is free to the public. For more information, call 920-739-1040, or The Trout Museum of Art (formerly Appleton Art Center) at 920-733-4089.

The Gallery at American National Bank Fox Cities is a partnership with The Trout Museum of Art. Gallery hours are 9 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday. All proceeds from sales go to The Trout Museum of Art and the exhibiting artists. American National Bank Fox Cities is located at 2200 N. Richmond St., Appleton, WI 54911.
